We are very pleased to welcome Lynn Johnson as our guest speaker this month!

Lynn Johnson has served as Director of the City of Lincoln Parks and Recreation Department since 2000. Lynn's educational background is in landscape architecture with degrees from Washington State University and Kansas State University. His professional experience includes serving as Planning and Construction Manager for Lincoln Parks and Recreation, working as a community and parks planner in Washington State, and teaching at Kansas State University. Lynn and his wife Susan have two grown daughters, and share leisure interests of cycling, hiking and gardening.

Emerald Ash Borer EAB, a destructive invasive beetle that affects all ash trees, was confirmed to be in Lincoln in August. Parks and Recreation Director Lynn Johnson will discuss the City's plans for addressing the impending impact of EAB on about 12,000 public ash trees along streets, in parks and golf courses, and along trails. The City has begun a planned phased removal of public ash trees and replanting of a diverse mix of new trees. Lynn will also share some recommendations of what property owners can be doing to plan for the impact of EAB on their trees.

Please join us as Lynn Johnson will be discussing information on the Emerald Ash Borer and how this will effect the community of Lincoln!!
