COMPASS POINT

JUNE 2010

One Night Only at the Joyo Theater

Miss Twain's Train Trouble

Fundraiser event for Aging Partners Northeast Senior Center.

June 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Join the cast of Eugene T. Mahoney State Park Melodrama at the historic Joyo Theater, 6102 Havelock Ave., for a performance of the zany family melodrama Miss Twain's Train Trouble by D. Chapelle.

Beautiful and spunky Valerie Twain is travelling with her daffy mother Titania to save the family railroad business from a hostile takeover. Little do they realize the danger is coming from the hostile head conductor, Dewey Cheatum. Will the lovely Valerie fall prey to evil Dewey and Valerie's evil twin sister Mallory or will wonderful Richard Driverman, the fearless engineer, be able to save her?

But hostile takeovers and danger aren't Valerie's only problems. Discover what other troubles are in store in Miss Twain's Train Trouble.

General Admission tickets are $5 and are available at the Northeast Center. For details call 441-7151.

Coming July 15th to the Downtown Senior Center

Local entertainer Tyler Hunter will perform his "spot on" impersonation of Elvis.

Please reserve your seat by July 12th.

Laff-time Fun

An international law firm is advertising for a paralegal who can type, answer the phone, take dictation and speak more than one language.

To their surprise, the first applicant is a black and white Scotch terrier. They are even more astonished to find that the dog can type 125 words a minute, has an excellent telephone voice and knows shorthand.

The personnel manager is amazed. "You're really an extraordinary dog," she says. "But what about the foreign language requirement?"

"Meow," replies the dog.
