April 2019

Dear Lincoln Residents,

The Lincoln Commission on Human Rights (LCHR) dates back to 1966 when Lincoln voters passed Article 10, an antidiscrimination and human rights amendment to the City Charter. Title 11 was then added to the Lincoln Municipal Code, creating the framework to foster equal opportunity for all Lincoln residents and to prevent and respond to discrimination in employment, housing and public accommodation. This Annual Report highlights LCHR’s work over the past year to promote and enforce the protections afforded by local, state and federal laws.

I appreciate the willingness of all nine of our volunteer Commissioners, who share their valuable time and talents with the community. Their service demonstrates their strong commitment to equality and fairness in our community.

In 2018, Commissioners and our two LCHR investigators closed 11 housing cases, 32 employment cases and one public accommodation case. LCHR also reached 8,639 residents with 179 educational sessions covering civil rights and responsibilities.

The annual Civil Rights Conference in April 2018 focused on both employment and housing, with presentations from local, regional and national experts. We appreciate the continued support of our Conference sponsors -- the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, the Omaha Human Rights and Relations Department, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Southeast Community College and the Nebraska Housing Developers Association. The success of our Conference depends on their support, as well as the support of national and local presenters who share their civil rights knowledge and expertise with participants.

While the need to combat prejudice and discrimination in Lincoln continues, we must acknowledge the great strides that have been made in the past five decades. The work of the dedicated LCHR Commissioners and staff will ensure that progress continues, and the civil rights protections codified so many years ago remain in full force. We can all take pride in living in a community where inclusion is embraced and hate and discrimination will not be tolerated.

Sincerely,

Chris Beutler
Mayor of Lincoln
LCHR Staff Notes

Dear Friends of the Commission:

Another year has passed and it was nothing short of eventful! In 2018, Kimberley Taylor-Riley left the agency after serving five years as our Director of Equity and Diversity. Though she will be missed, we are glad she found an opportunity to be closer to her family in Missouri. Following her departure, City Attorney Jeffery Kirkpatrick served as our Interim Director for the remainder of the year. We also said farewell to two of our Commissioners, Jane Merliss and Susan Oldfield. Merliss served on the Commission for two years and Oldfield for eight years. Their dedication and insight made them great assets to the Commission. We also welcomed aboard Commissioner Rachel Zeng.

In April we held our annual Civil Rights Conference at The Graduate Hotel in Lincoln, Nebraska, where we had over 185 attendees. In addition to our legal updates, the Conference highlighted our nation’s immigration system and its local impact on workers and families. Our keynote speakers included Theodore Wheeler, author of Kings of Broken Things, and Stella Adams, Chief of Equity and Inclusion for the National Community Reinvestment Coalition. We were also pleased to announce the winner of the Gerald Henderson Human Rights Award, Ed Wimes, who is a passionate advocate for fairness and equality in the community.

In July we hosted our first Region VII Fair Housing Assistance Program Conference in Omaha. Region VII encompasses civil rights agencies located in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, and Missouri. The conference provided training opportunities for more than 50 civil rights investigators and managers. It was a great opportunity to work alongside our counterparts, the Nebraska Equal Opportunity Commission, the Omaha Human Rights and Relations Department, and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. We also commemorated 50 years of the Fair Housing Act!

In September we orchestrated a LGBTQ+ workshop: “The Fight for Your Rights” discussing the current status on LGBTQ+ rights, potential legislation, litigation, and activism. We were very appreciative to the community members who attended and shared their stories with us. We hope to have the opportunity to further expand on this workshop and possibly present it again in the future.

The Lincoln Commission on Human Rights is truly thankful for the continued support it receives from all of you, especially during such a momentous year.

On Behalf of the Commission,

Michelle Ware
Francisca Beltran

Margie Nichols
Peg Dillon
Dear Citizens and Friends of the Commission,

I would like to take this opportunity to provide an update on the Commission’s work throughout 2018. We hope to educate the employers, employees, landlords, and tenants about acceptable practices and discriminatory ones that arise in the daily lives of the residents of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska. I want to acknowledge the work of Kimberley Taylor-Riley, Executive Director who left Lincoln to pursue other opportunities. The LCHR staff stepped up their efforts and worked with interim Director Jeff Kirkpatrick who also serves as City Attorney of Lincoln. They all continued to work diligently to investigate complaints, discuss the cases brought before the Commission, and issue findings in a timely and just manner.

In my second year as Chair of the Lincoln Commission on Human Rights, I want to express my many thanks to all involved for affording me this opportunity. It was also my pleasure to be a part of presenting the Gerald Henderson Human Rights award this past year and also for the Annual Civil Rights Conference. I have to affirm what my predecessor stated last year: “That this diverse complement of individuals allowed the Commission to operate as an experienced set of fact finders, thoughtful problem solvers, and committed dispute resolution specialists.” It has been and continues to be an honor to do so.

During 2018, we said goodbye to Commissioners Jaine Merliss and Susan Oldfield. We thank them for their service to the City of Lincoln and to the Commission.

The annual Civil Rights Conference was hosted by the LCHR staff in April 2018 and was again a resounding success. The Annual Conference is an educational and instructive how-to seminar focusing on compliance with housing and employment requirements that affect all of us. Each year, the quality of the conference and the number of participants grows. I am extremely proud of the work the staff performs to host the conference - hats off to them!

Our work continues as we strive for fairness and equality in a city that supports a local Civil Rights Agency to specifically address housing and employment discrimination. How fortunate we are to live in Lincoln, Nebraska, a city committed to equity and fairness for all its residents.

Sincerely,

Micheal Q. Thompson

The LCHR Commission is a nine member board of diverse community members who review and issue a determination in the cases presented to them. They are volunteers who are appointed by the Mayor and approved by the City Council. One goal of the Commission is to continue educating the public on discrimination laws in the hope of preventing, and eventually eliminating, unlawful discrimination. They meet on the last Thursday of each month at 4 p.m. in the City Council Chambers of the County/City Building. The public is welcome to attend.
Outgoing Commissioners:
In 2018, two of our dedicated Commissioners left LCHR. Susan Oldfield fulfilled two full terms and one partial term for a total of eight years of service. Jaine Merliss resigned after serving two years on the Commission.

Thank you for your service!
Mission Statement

Mission

The administration of the Human Rights Division supports the enforcement of all provisions of Title 11 of the Lincoln Municipal Code. To receive, settle, conciliate, investigate, issue findings, and hold public hearings on complaints alleging discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, disability, national origin, familial status, age, ancestry, marital status, and retaliation within the City of Lincoln.

To perform functions and activities with community groups, businesses, schools, and governmental entities for the purpose of promoting understanding between races, cultures, and sexes, and to work to eliminate inequalities and sources of inter-racial friction.

Review all City of Lincoln procurement bids and awards in excess of $10,000.00.

Review Disadvantaged Business Enterprises (DBE) program of minority and women-owned businesses and maintain directory.

Goals

To eliminate and prevent all forms of illegal discrimination, to assure and foster equal opportunity for all citizens of the City, and to act in all matters within its jurisdiction.

The Commission’s Role

The Commission is a neutral investigative agency. We do not serve as either party’s lawyer, advocate, or advisor. We are not attorneys. We do not take the side of either the Complainant (the person who filed the complaint) or the Respondent (the alleged discriminator).

The job of the Commission is:

- to investigate complaints of discrimination;
- to settle complaints, if possible;
- to determine, after investigation, whether there was discrimination in violation of the City of Lincoln’s Equal Opportunity Ordinance; and
- to order remedies if the Complainant proves at a hearing that discrimination has occurred.

LCHR is the primary city agency that has the responsibility to address discrimination complaints brought by individuals. Any remedy pursued by LCHR will be based on the enforcement authority of the Equal Opportunity Ordinance, which provides a fair and impartial process for resolving Charges of Discrimination. LCHR also provides community education and technical assistance in order for people to know and understand their rights and responsibilities under the law.
In housing complaints, the Complainant always has the option throughout the process to pursue his or her case privately in court.

This provides an approximate demographic report based on the racial, national origin, or ethnic designation provided by the Complainant.
There are various reasons why inquiries do not result in the filing of a complaint, including, but not limited to: the Commission not having subject matter jurisdiction, the individual not wanting to file a complaint, or the individual failing to follow through with the filing of a complaint.
What do the numbers mean? “No Reasonable Cause” cases are when the Commissioners determine there is insufficient evidence to believe discrimination occurred. In “Reasonable Cause” determinations, Commissioners believe there is evidence of discrimination. “Administrative Closures” are cases closed for a variety of reasons (see chart below). “Pre-Determination Settlements” are cases closed due to a settlement agreement prior to a Commission decision. “Successful Conciliation” occurs when the parties reach an agreement after the commission makes a reasonable cause finding.

Sometimes the Commissioners make more than one decision in a single case. Commissioners may determine Reasonable Cause exists and those cases may later be closed in the same year by the Commission due to: Successful Conciliation, Public Hearing Determination, or issuance of a Notice of Right to Sue. As such, the total number of Commission decisions may be greater than the number of cases closed.

Service Satisfaction Surveys

The Commission strives to achieve high satisfaction rates among Complainants and Respondents involved in investigations. In an effort to gauge how the staff and overall process is perceived, Complainants and Respondents are asked to participate in a survey following case closure. Survey takers are asked to provide feedback on their comprehension of the process, overall satisfaction, and suggestions on how we could provide better service.

Complainants and Respondents were asked to rank our office on a scale from 1 to 5 with 1 being “Disagree Strongly” and 5 being “Agree Strongly”.

- All department staff presented themselves in a courteous and professional manner at all times.

- The intake investigator explained the laws and LCHR investigative procedures to your satisfaction.
